My Side of the Story.
International Bunny Meeting

EDUCATION

I'm not sorry
I ruined your
easter bunny

your fun holiday. where you spend your money

buying the stuff that you hide for the kids and the lies that you tell them. and fill up their lids hiding the eggs for the scavenger hunt

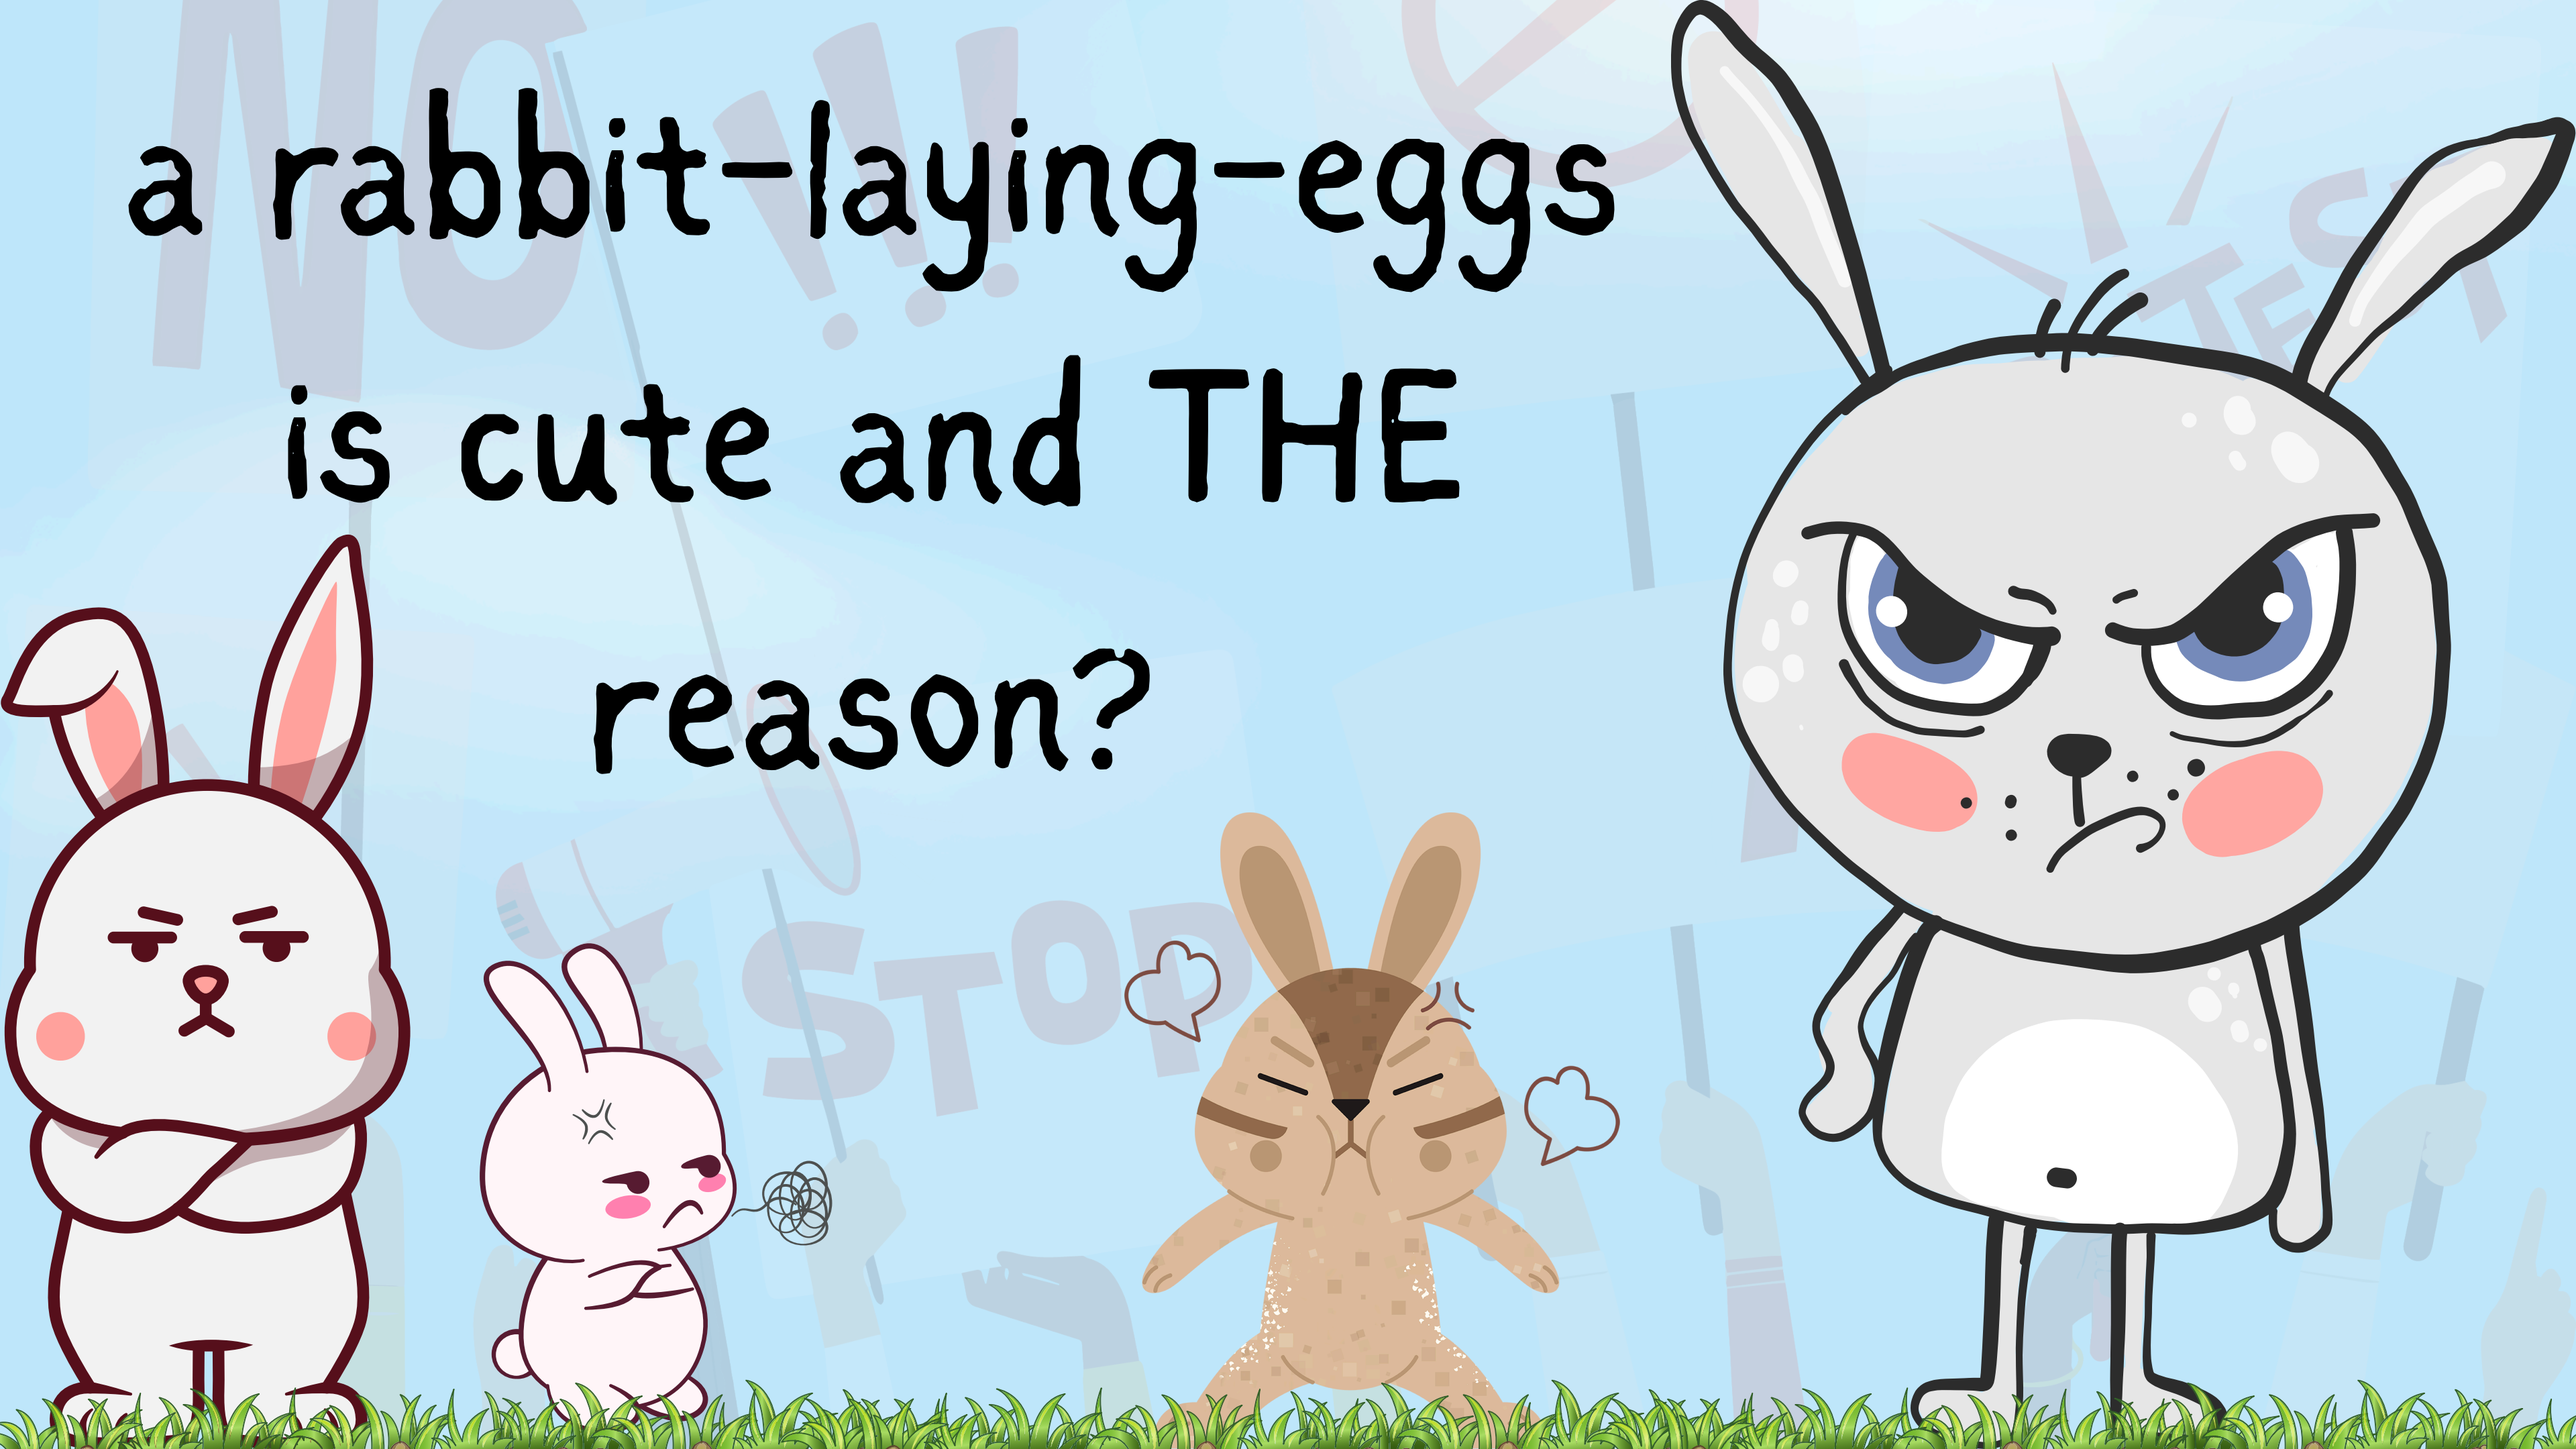
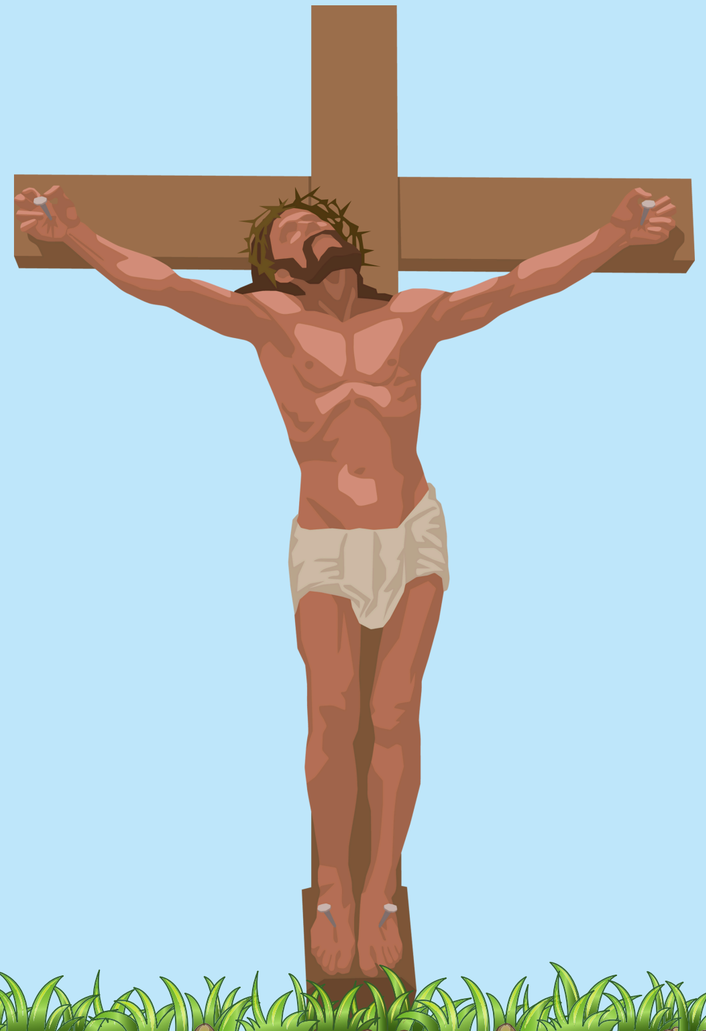
the rabbit left those?
what an insane. nasty
stunt?

a rabbit-laying-eggs is cute and THE reason?

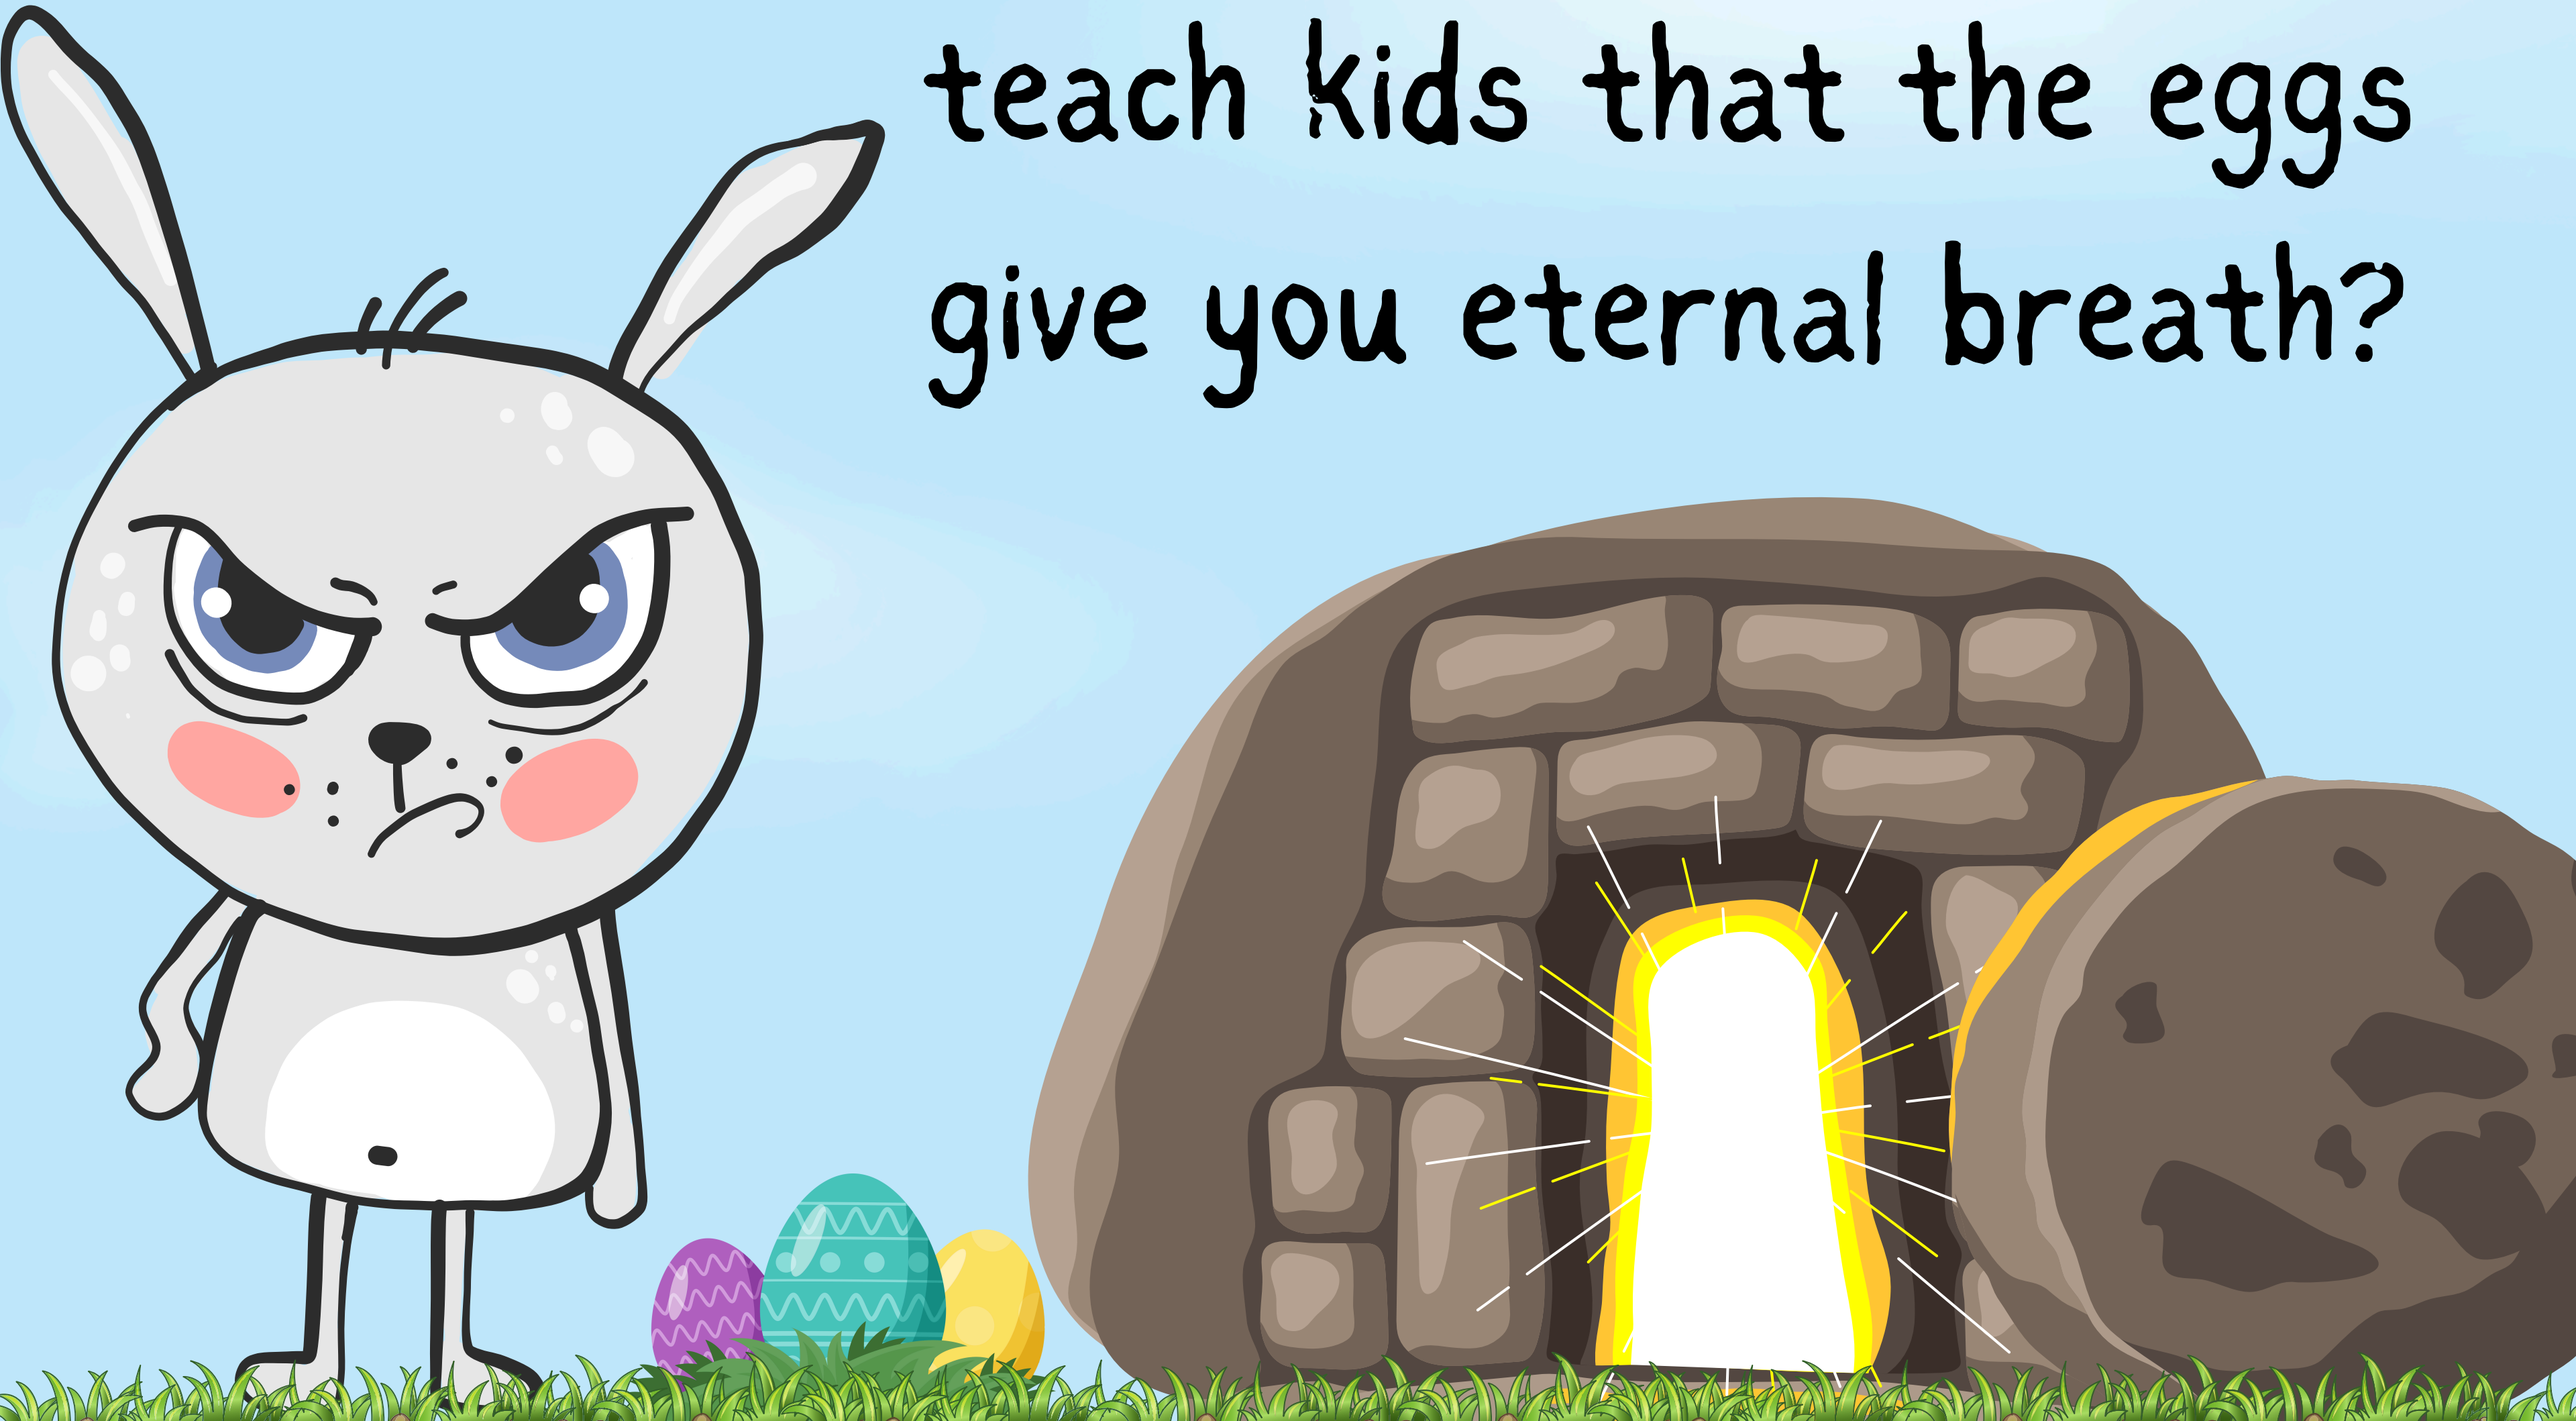


to replace Jesus? on this miraculous season?

teach kids that the rabbit conquered death?



teach kids that the eggs give you eternal breath?



teach kids that the pastel colors you see

are better than Jesus resurrecting me?

and giving new life. to what was once dead carefully watch what's inside your head

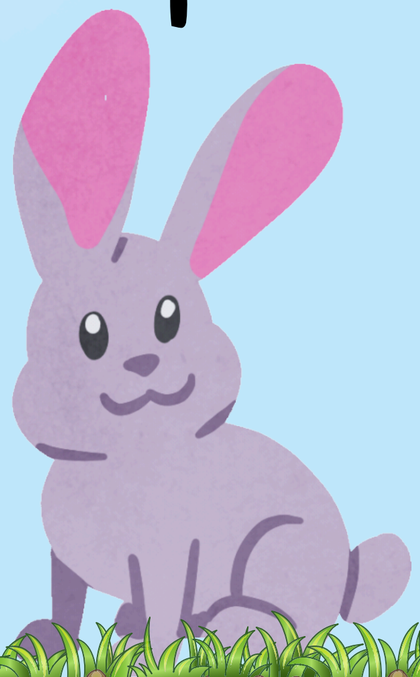
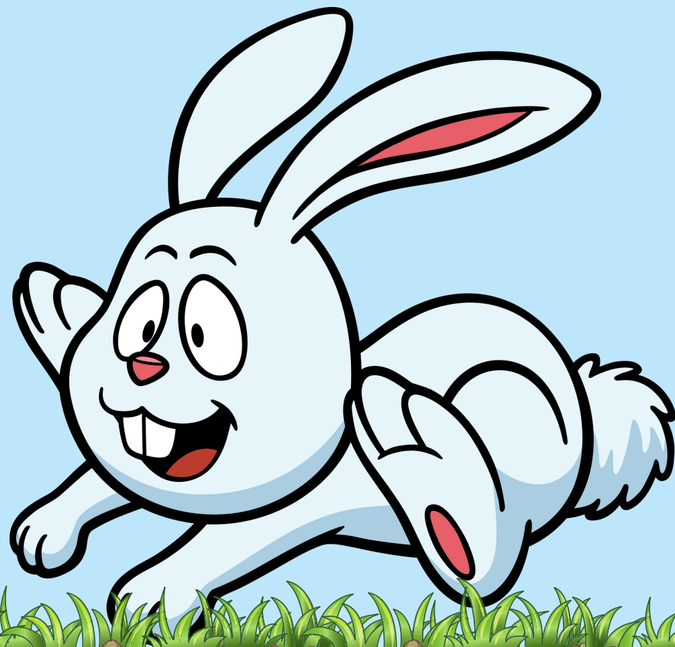
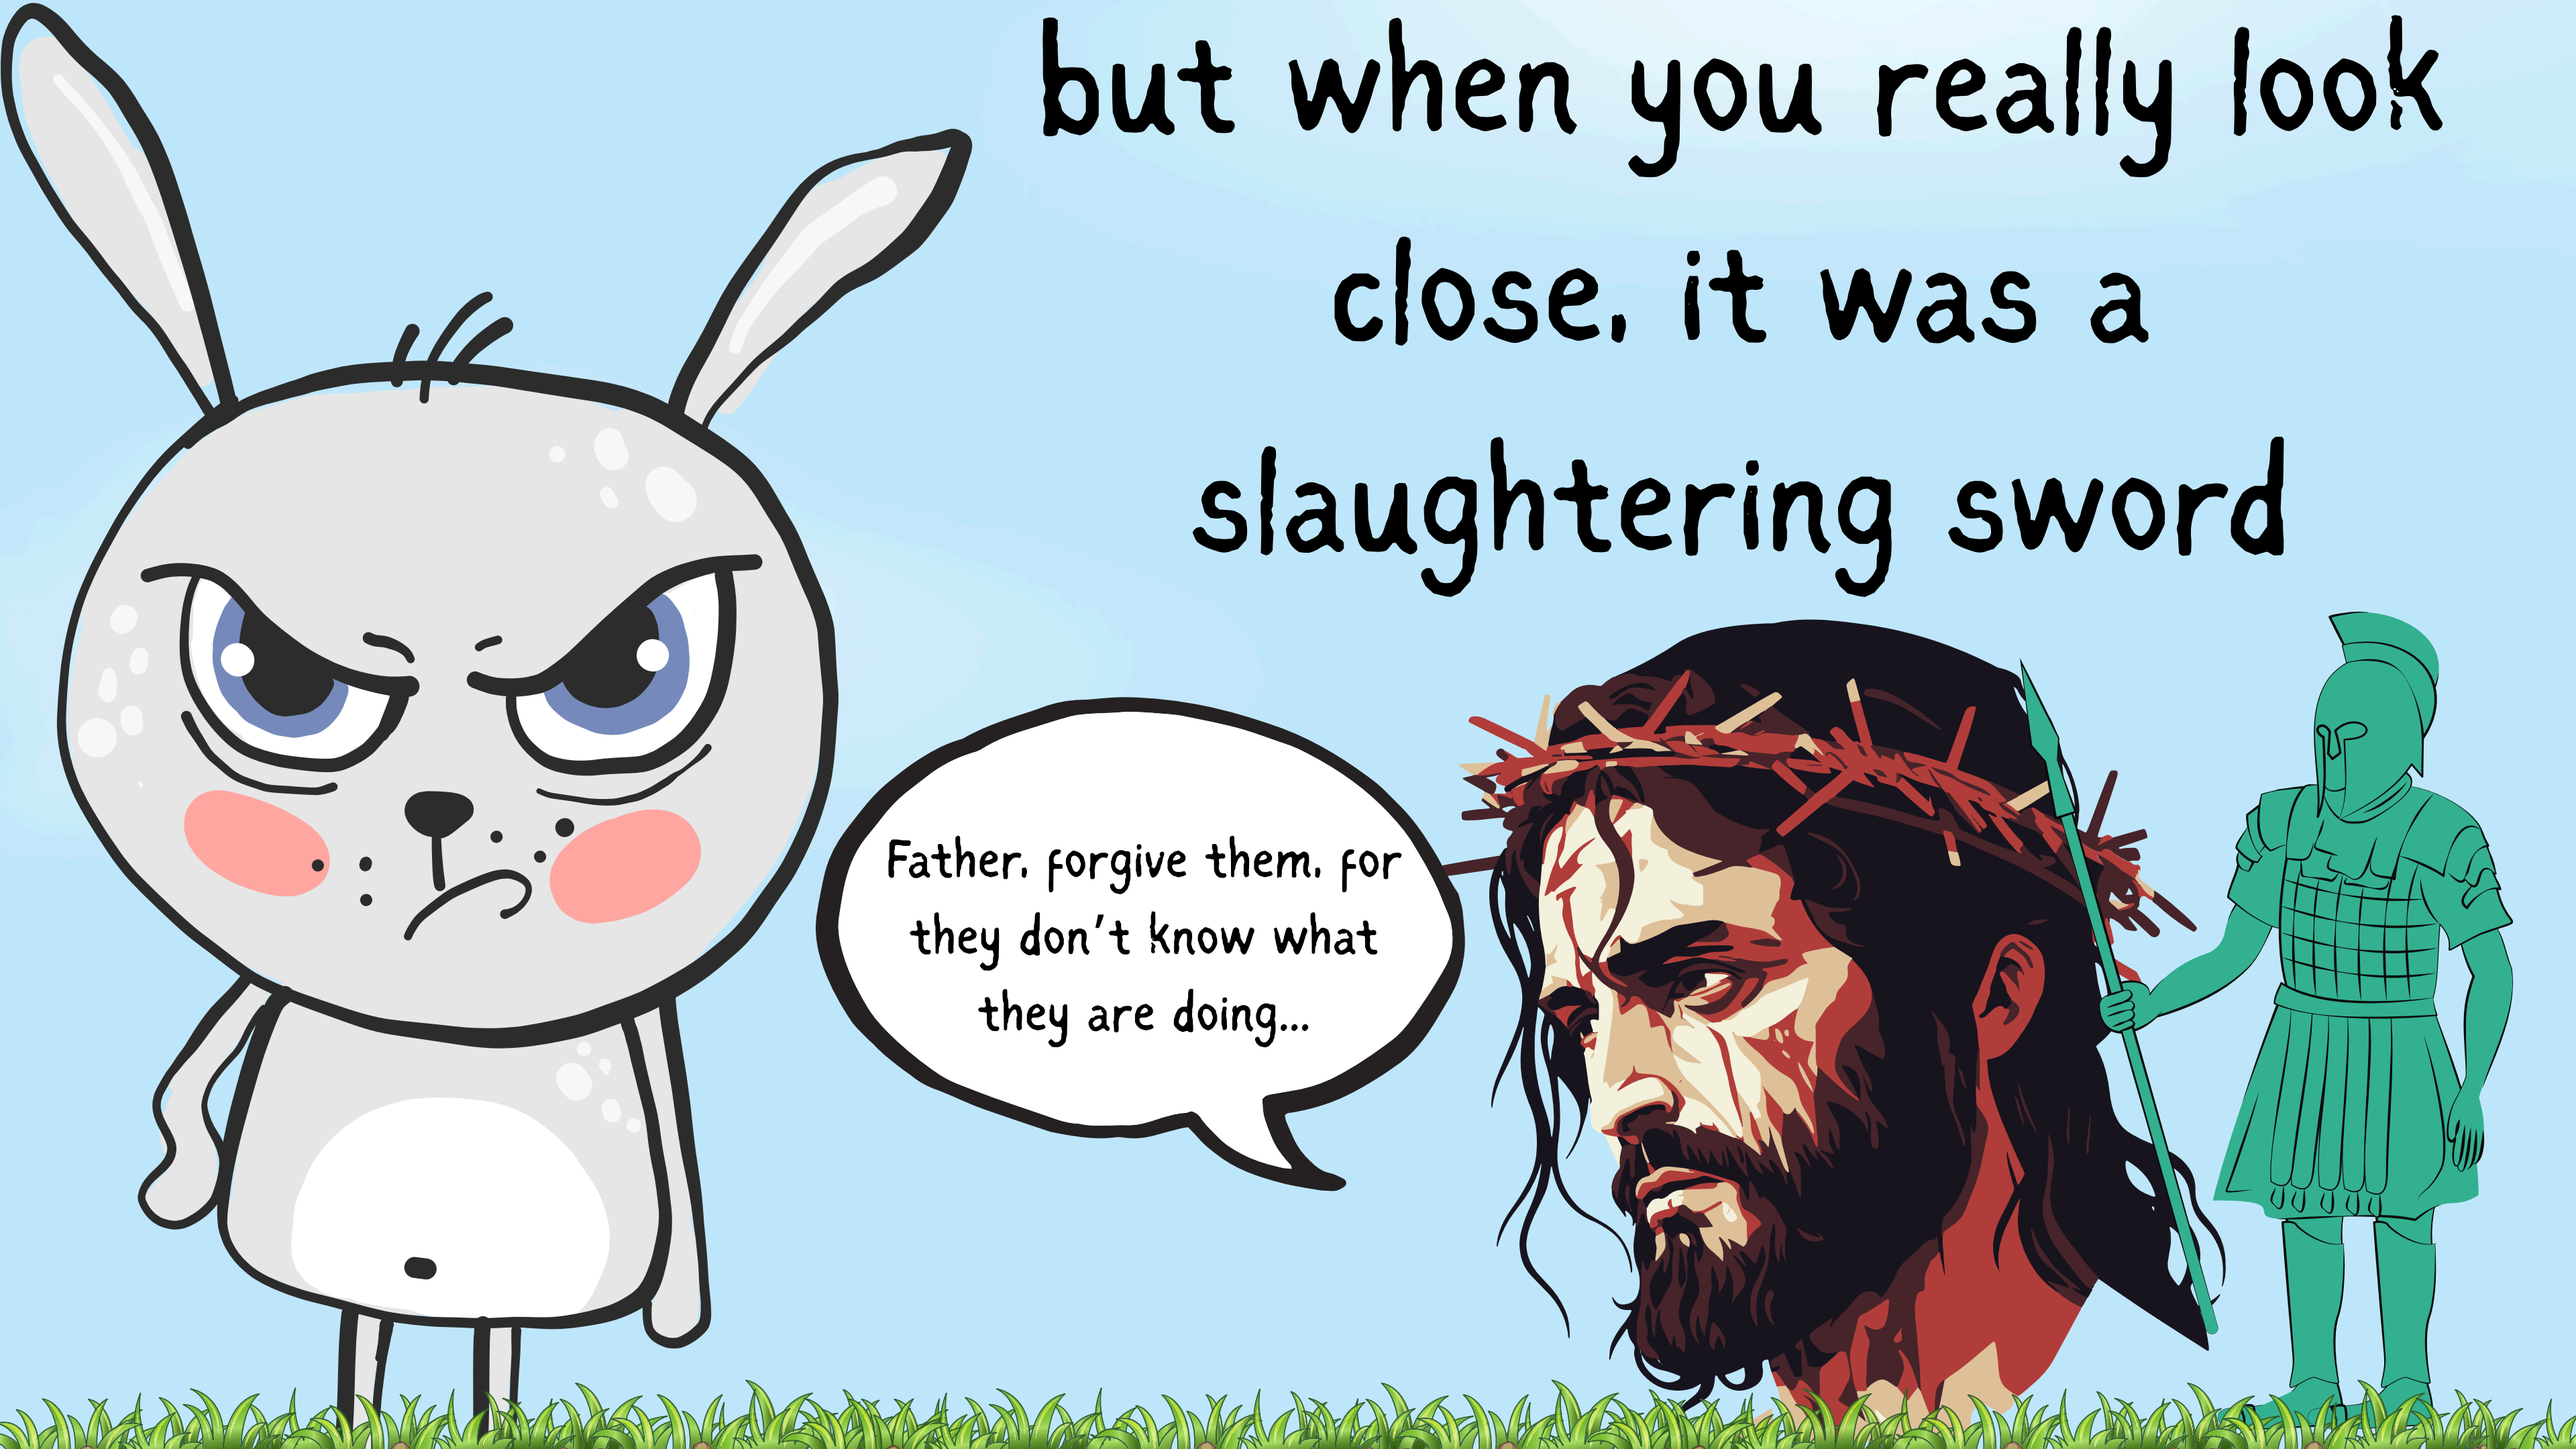
what sweetly
sneaks in and
replaces our Lord

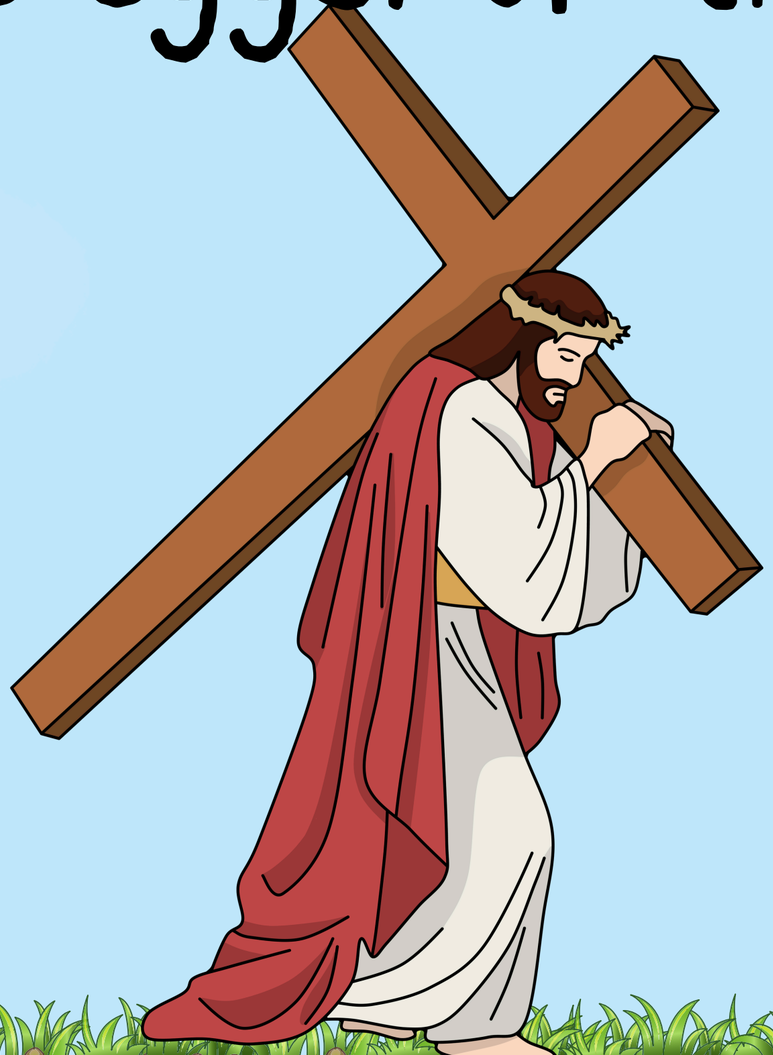




but when you really look close, it was a slaughtering sword



it wasn't the gifts, or the eggs, or the bunny

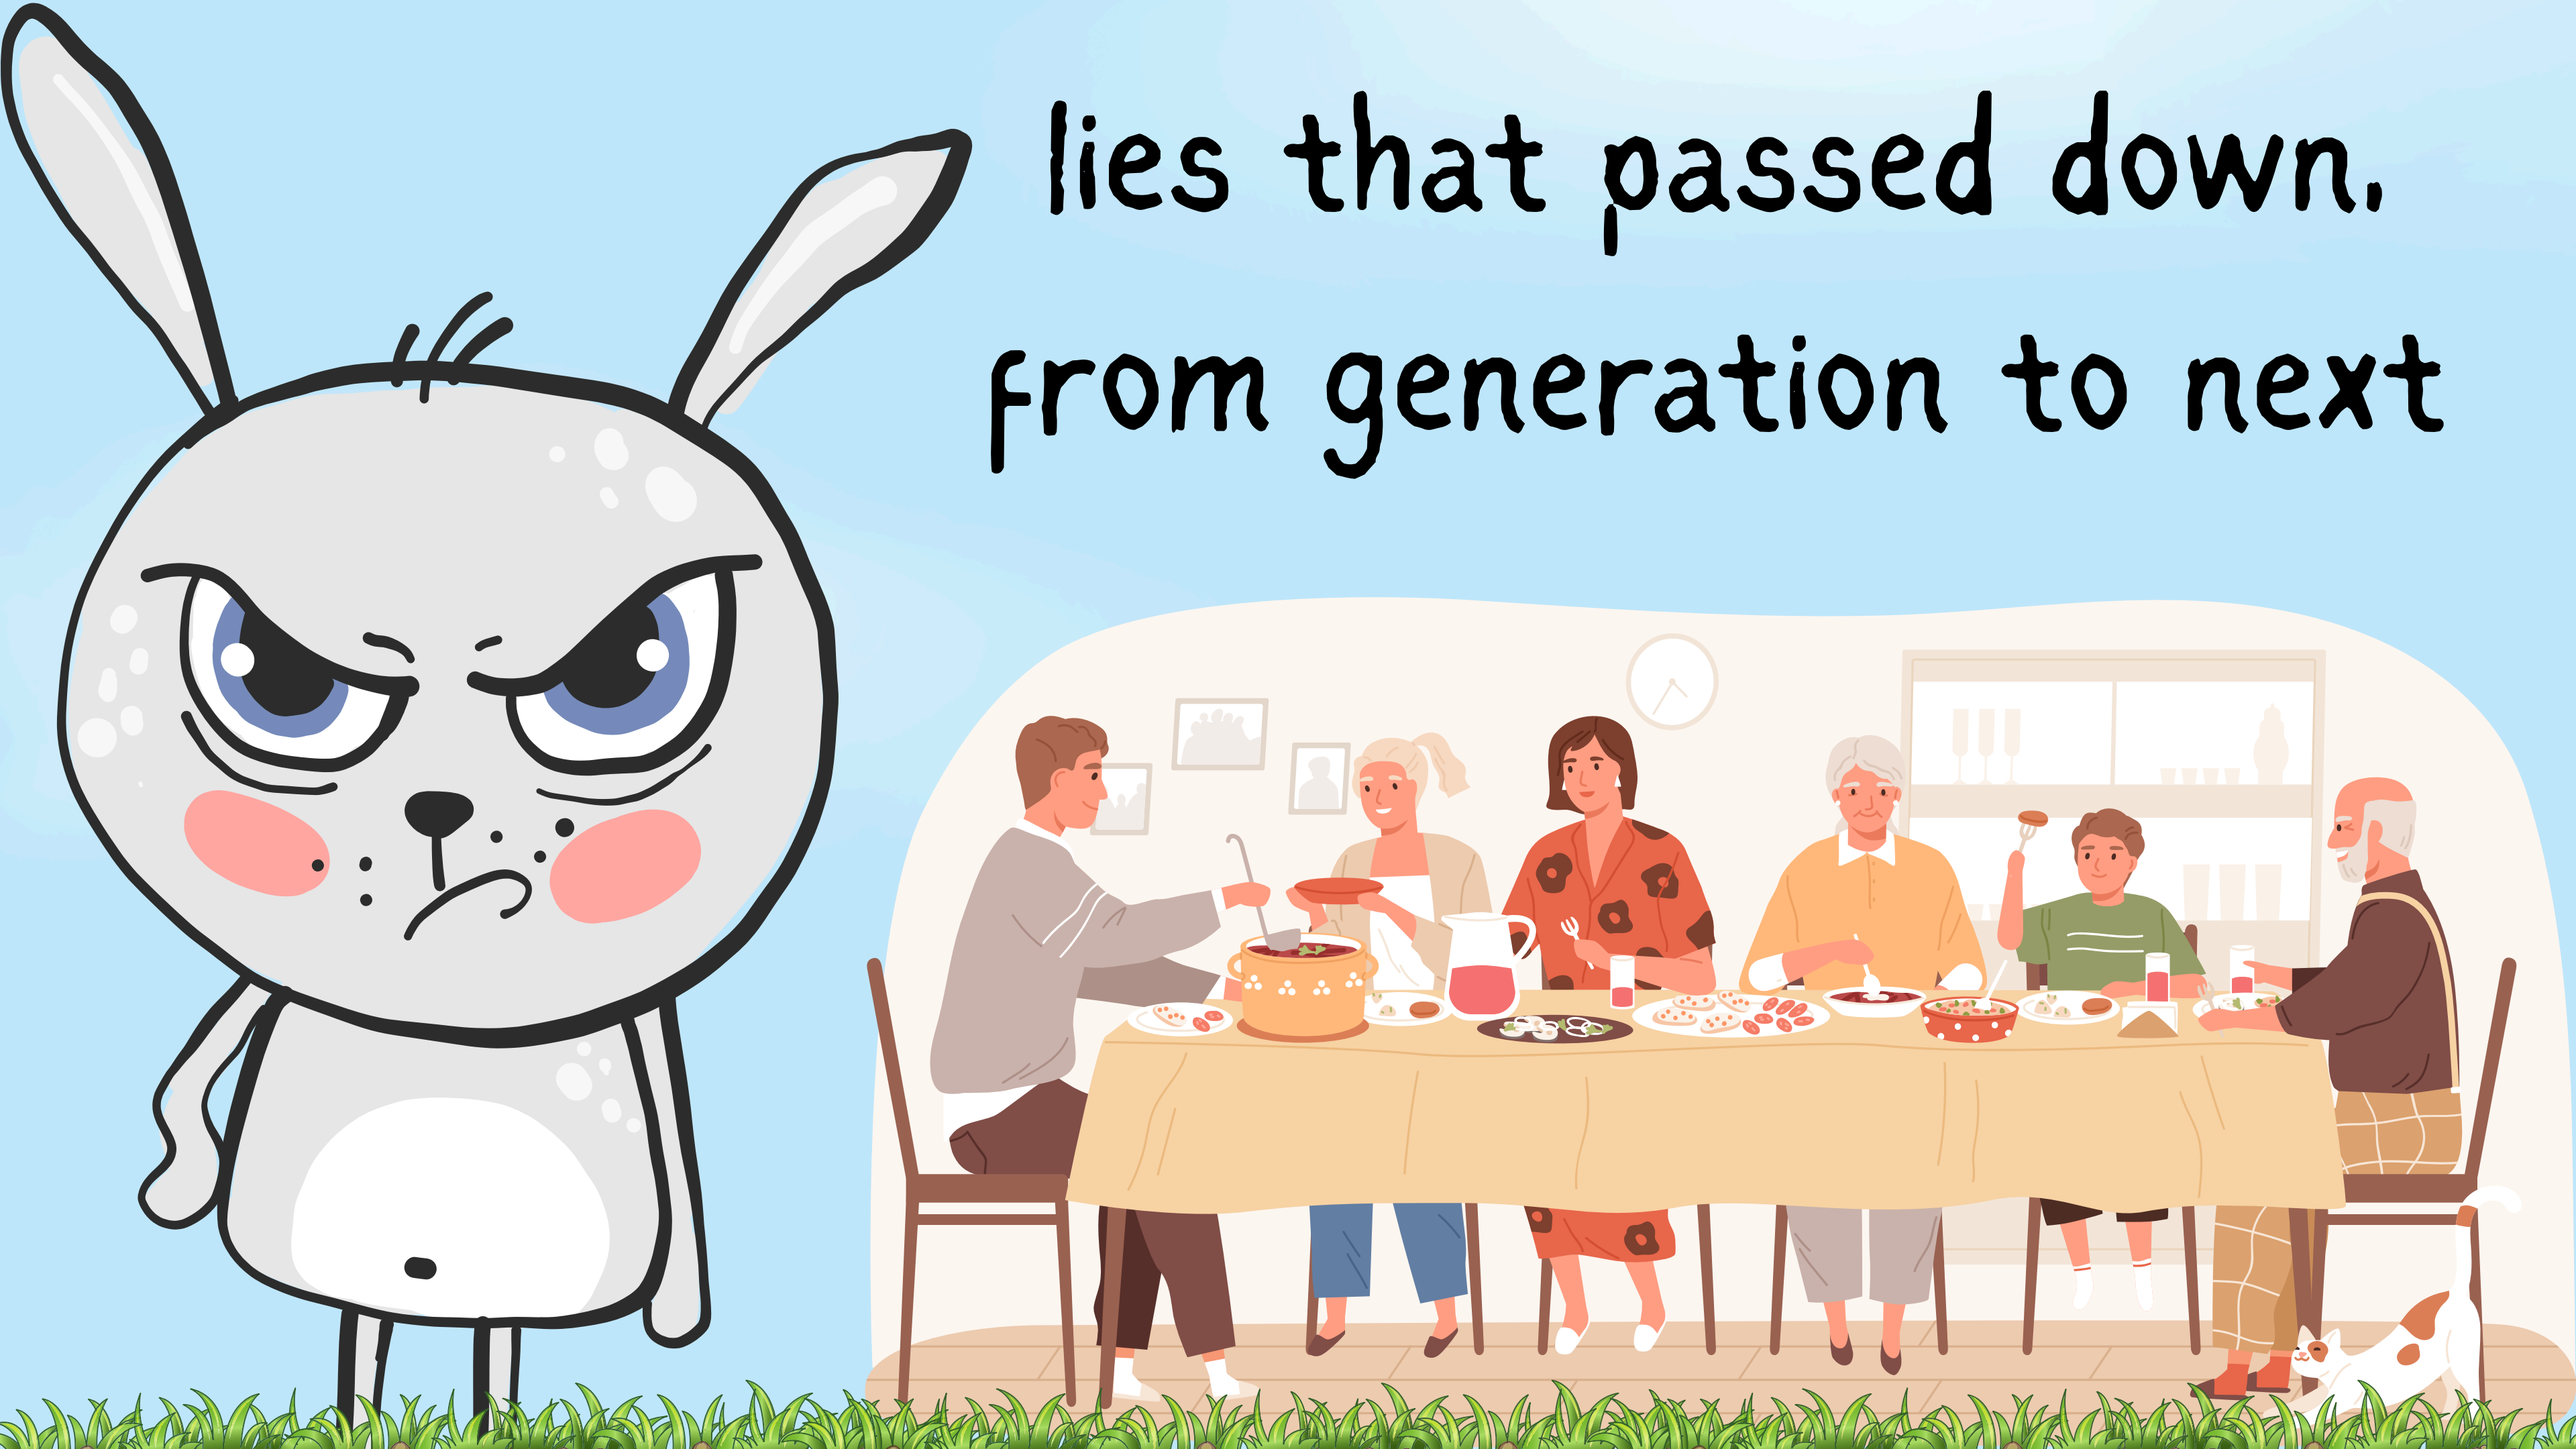


it was something must more. that isn't so funny

it was the enemy's ways
of distracting your eyes

turning your head.

then he filled you with lies



lies that passed down.
from generation to next

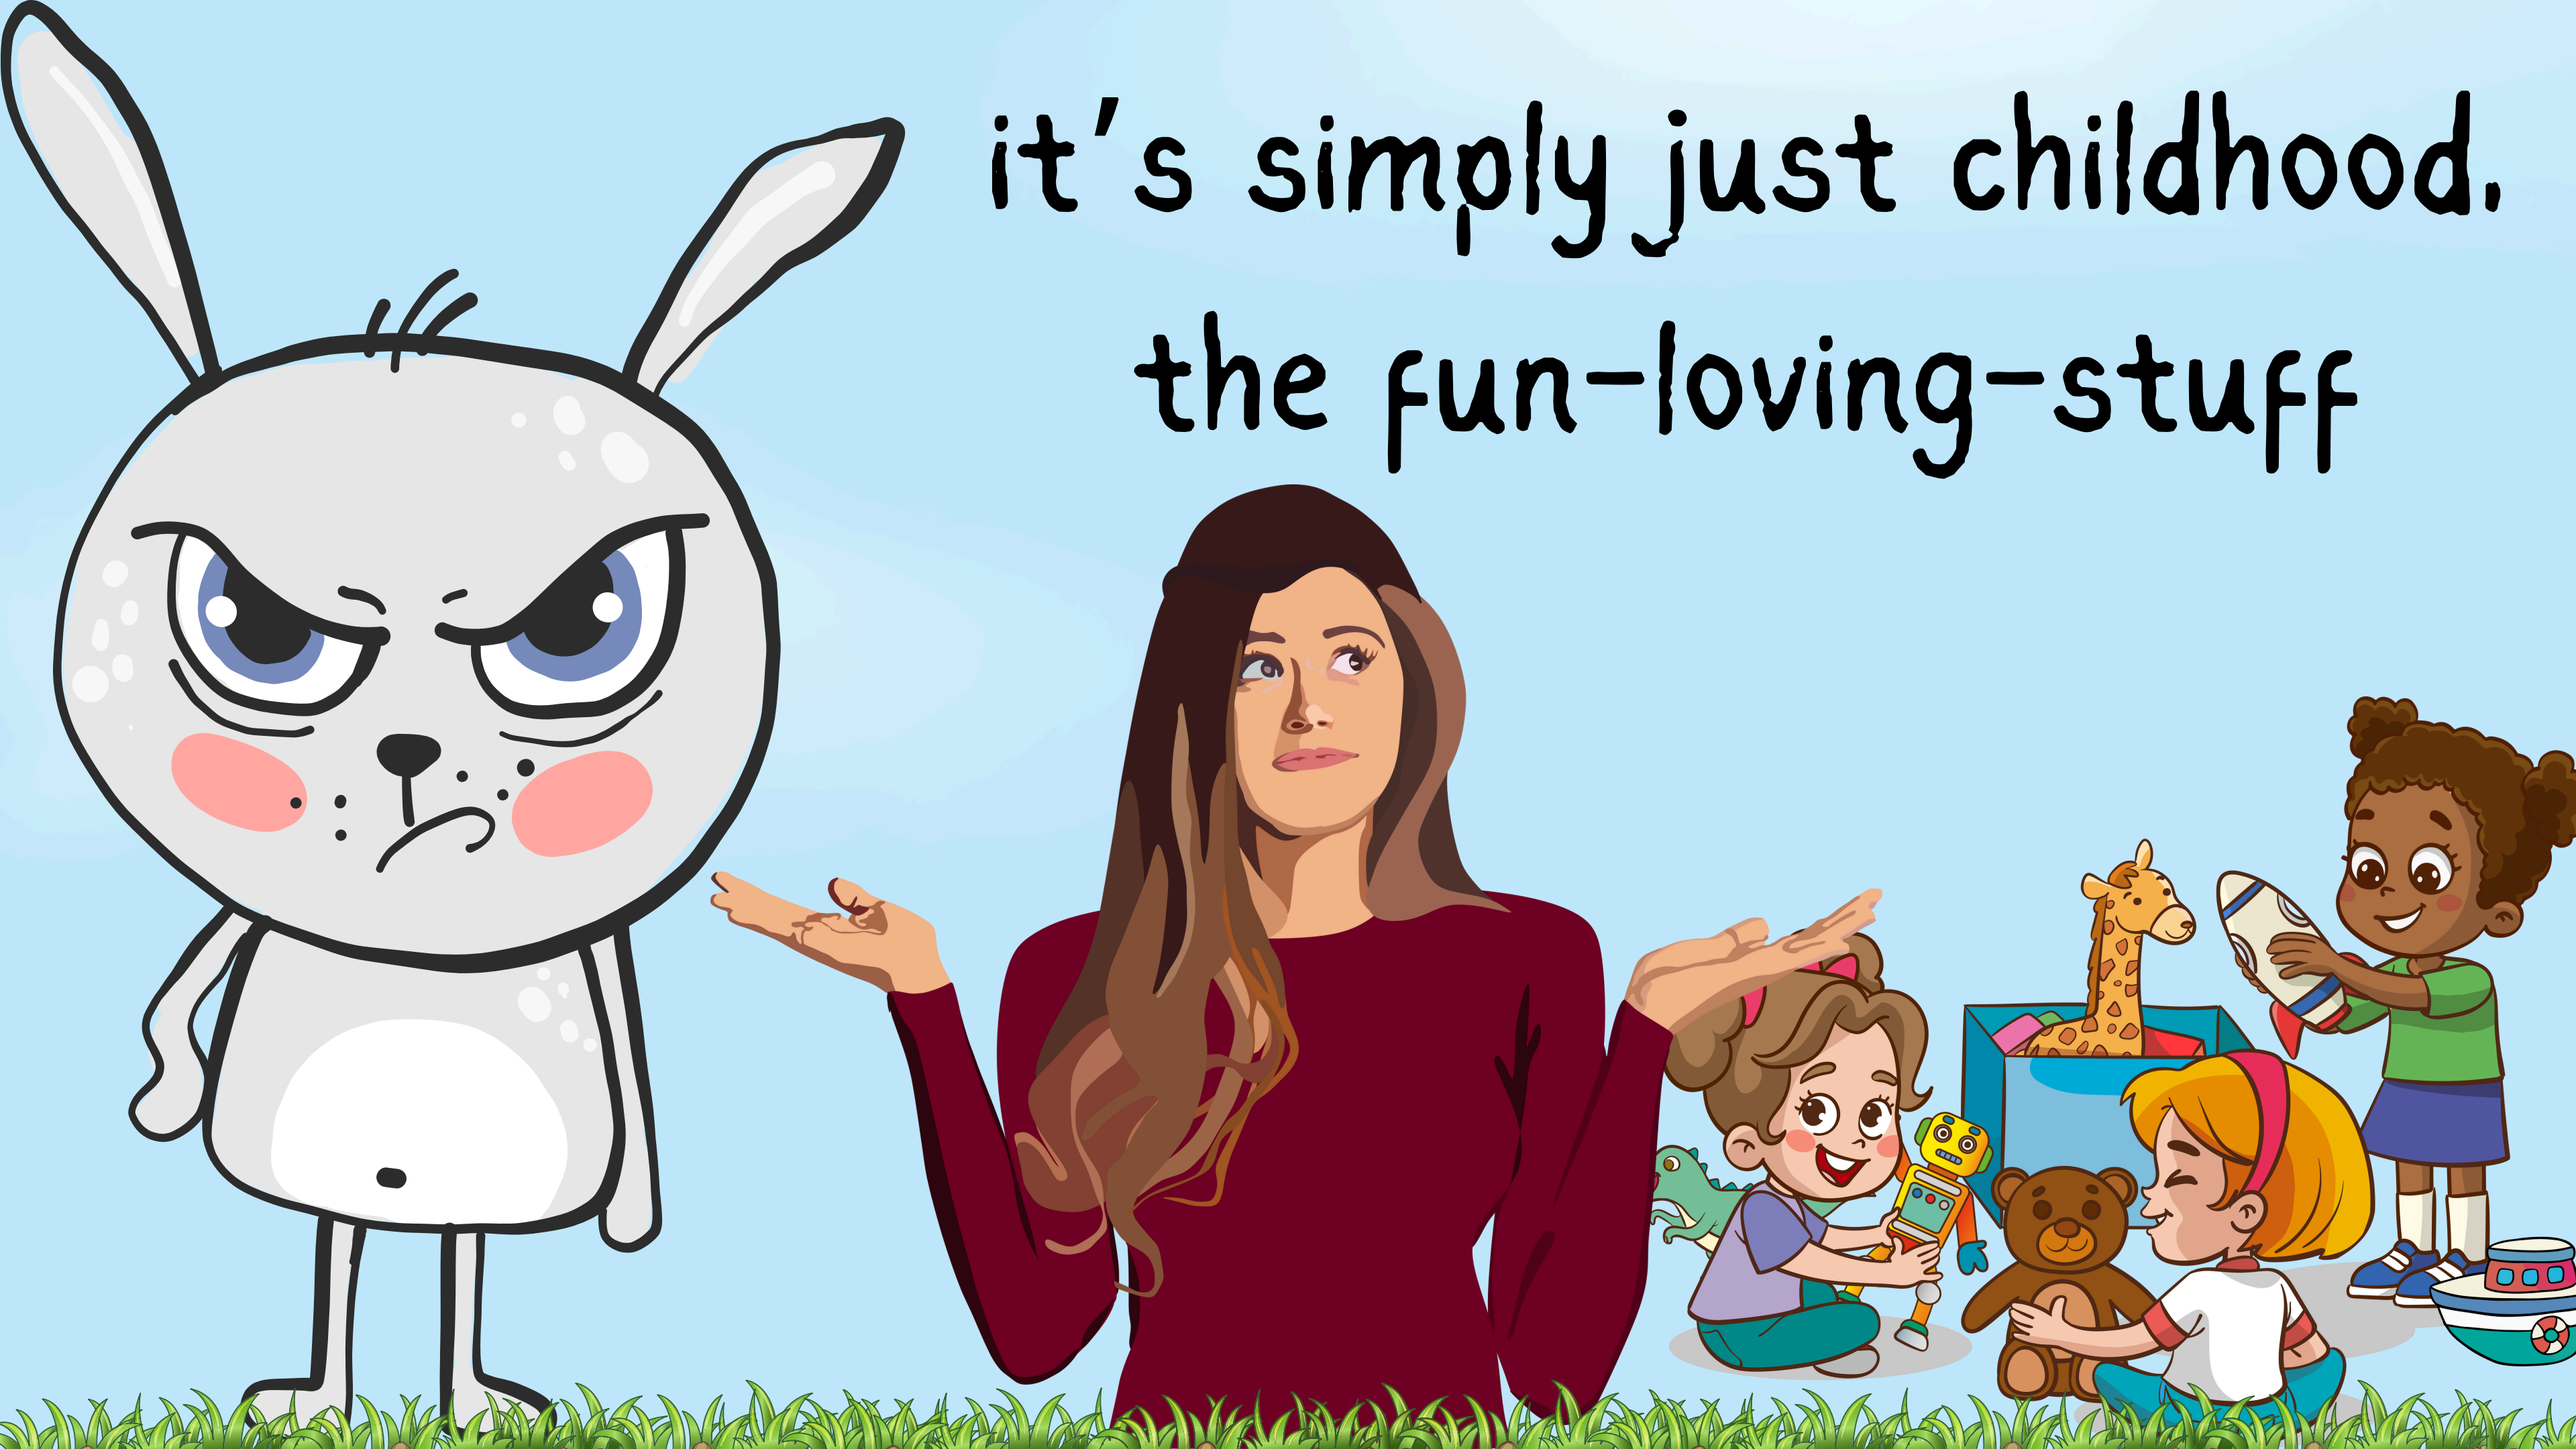
and before you realized
it. you all quickly accepts

that this tradition is guarded with guilt, lies, and shame

...don't take away santa.
or bunnies. or fame
BYE

don't "ruin" imagination.

or fun. or the fluff



it's simply just childhood.
the fun-loving-stuff

I don't recommend it..
FREEDOM FOR ALL
"fit in
with the rest of us"
be part
of the world...

you'll forget WHO made it.

instead you just hurled

your faith in the garbage.
sacrificed Jesus again

your faith in the garbage.

all to fit in with the world.

and your friend

your traditions belong to Jesus. please listen, sweet child

your imagination can go there.
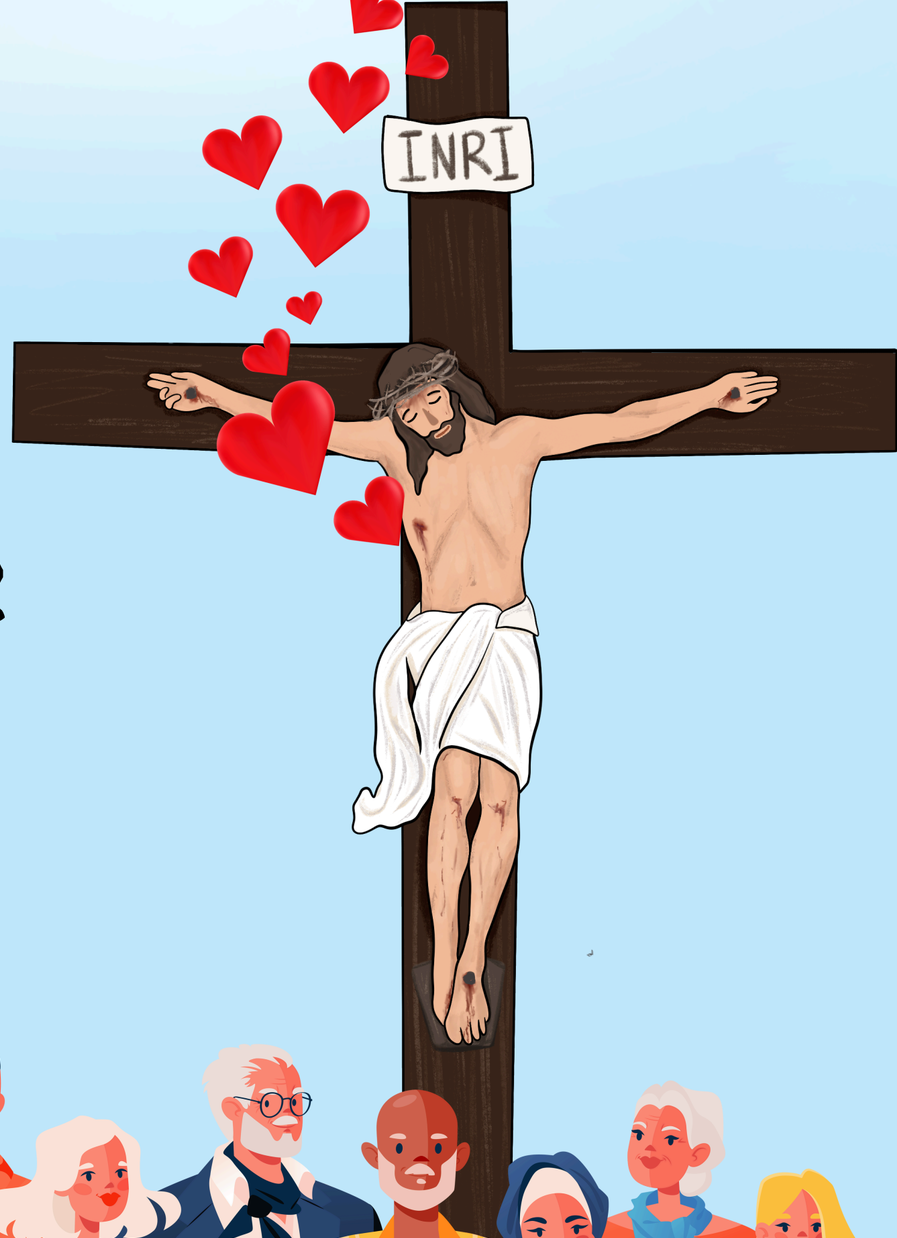
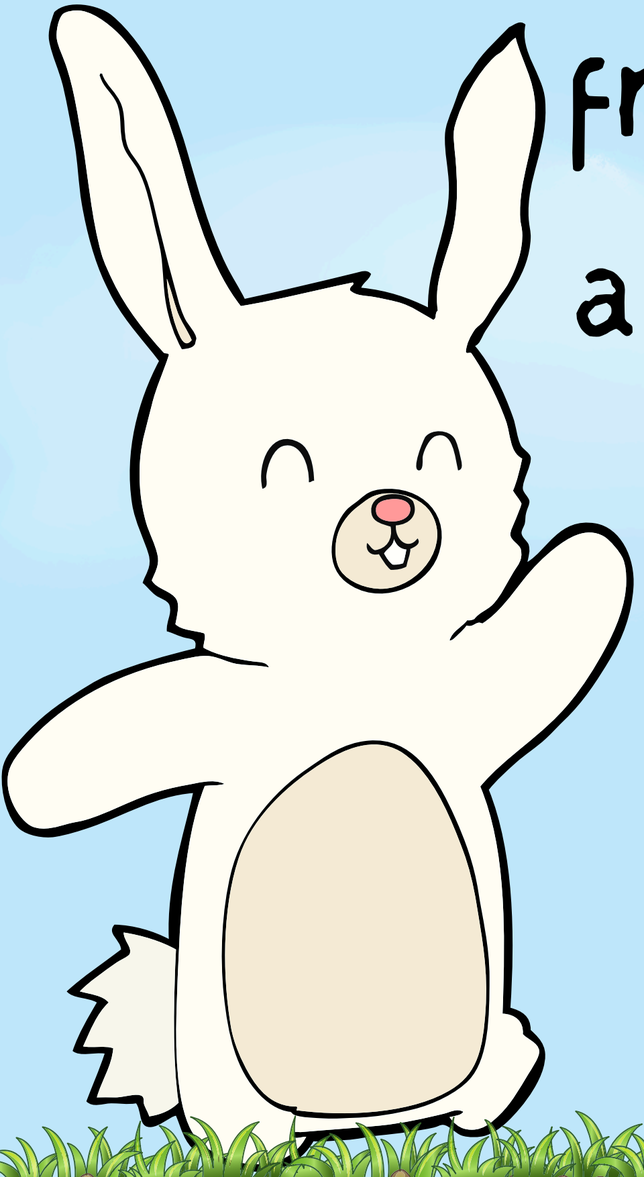
it's really quite wild

Jesus died
tremendously,
full of great love



and NO!
He didn't stay
there.
He rose up above

and received
from His Father,
a wonderful gift



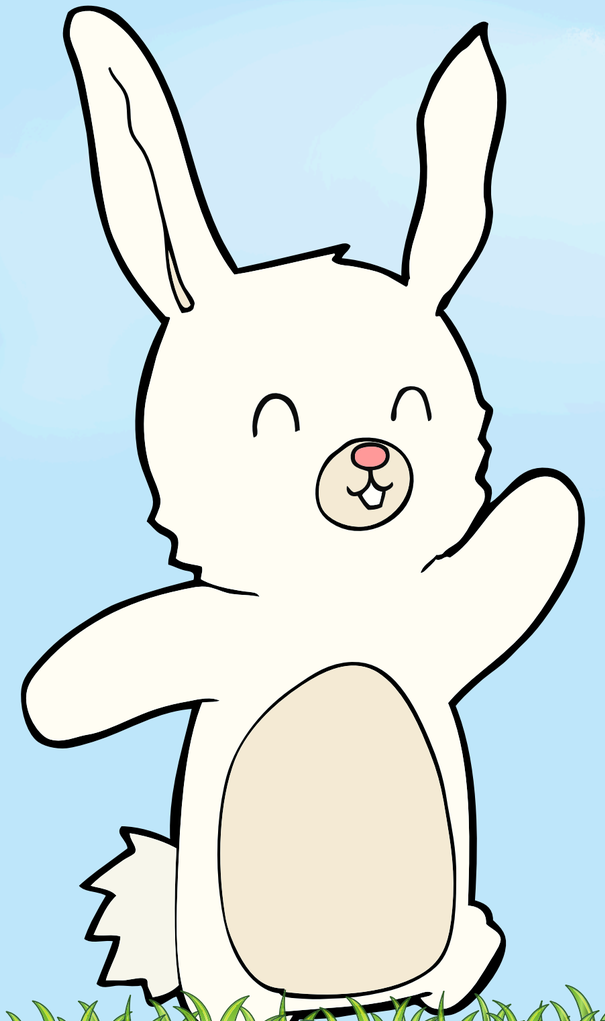
glory and honor. and a pendulum shift

Where once

He was a servant.

a Humble.

Son of Man

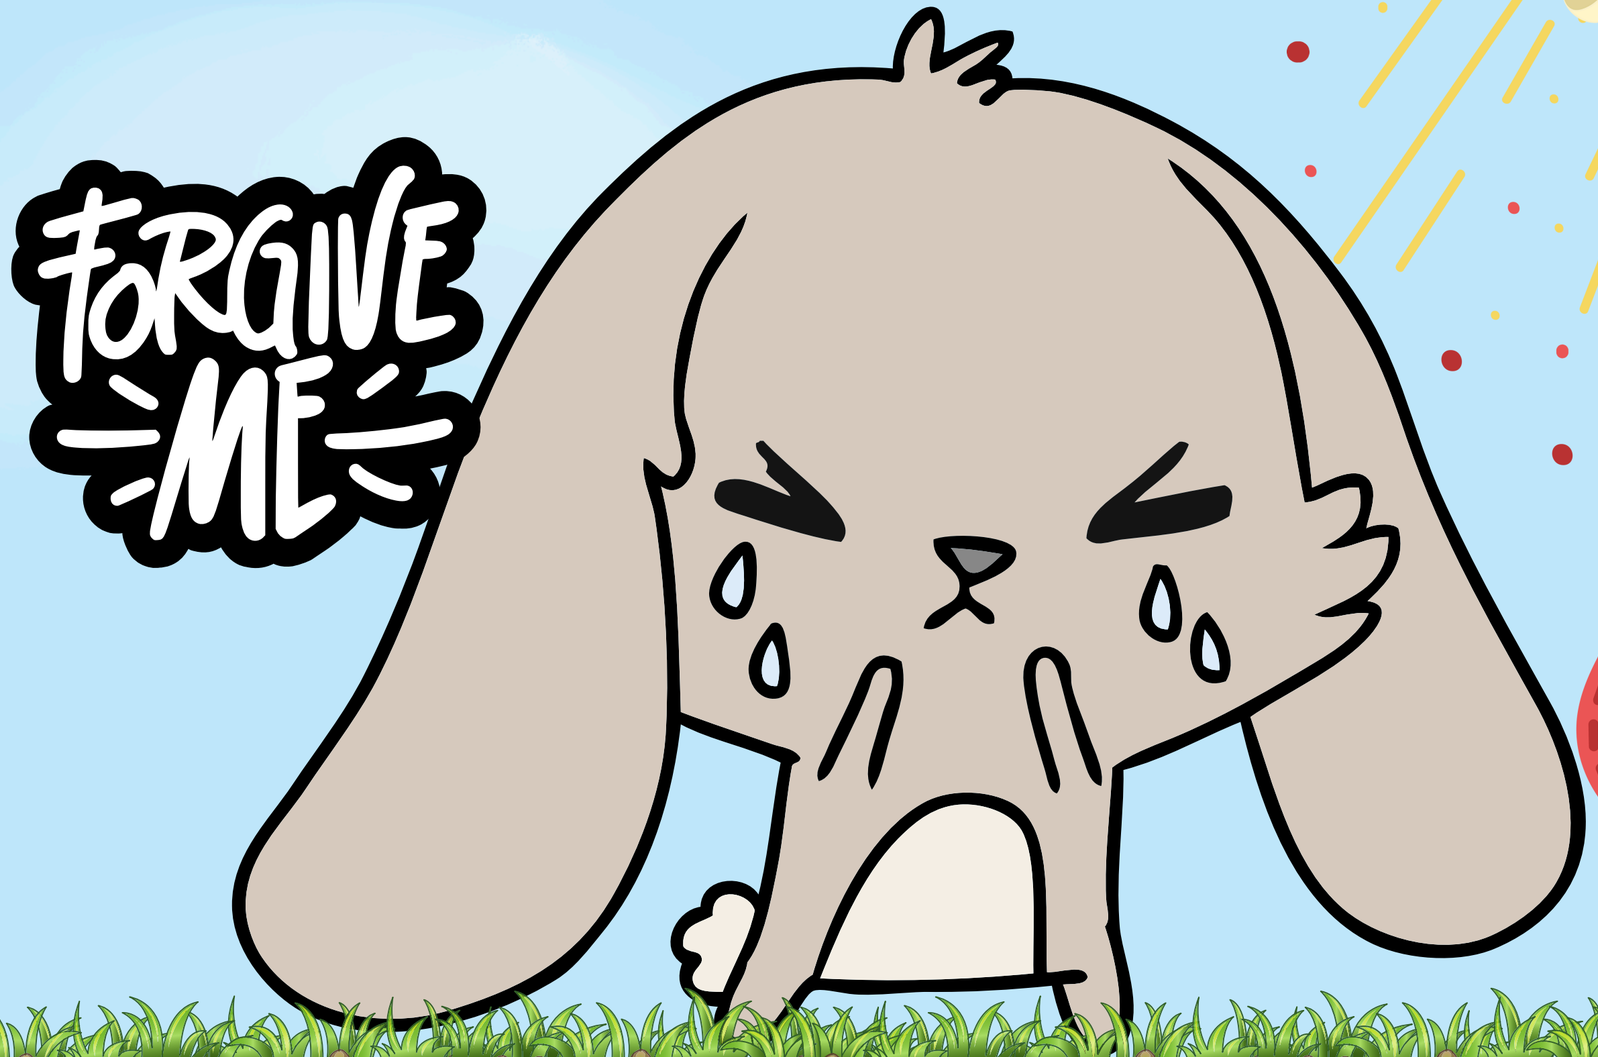


Now He sits on a throne.
there is nothing that can

replace this wonder??
imagine this day??

but a bunny replaced him.

and pushed him away.



eggs filled with candy,
and things that make
you feel sick

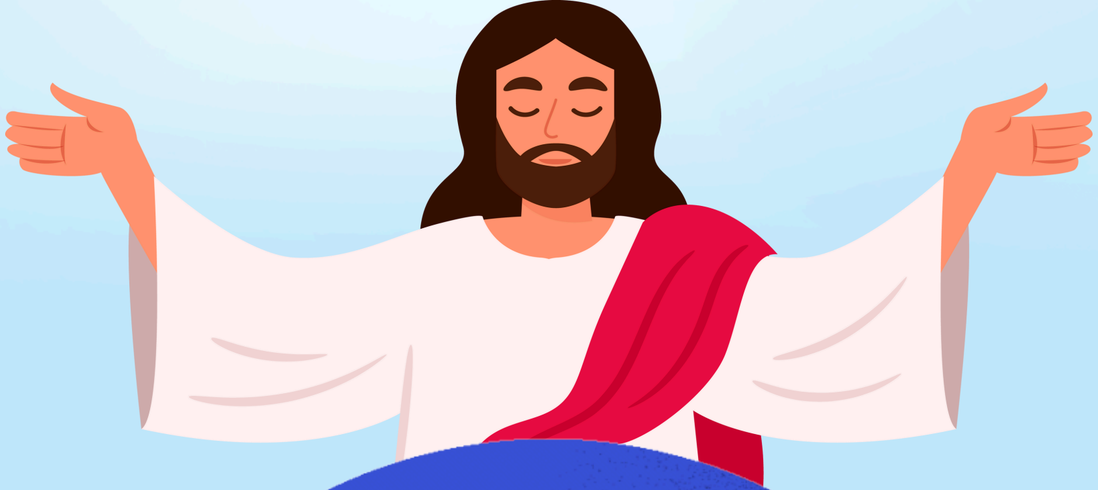
That is what replaced Jesus. what a nasty-mean-trick

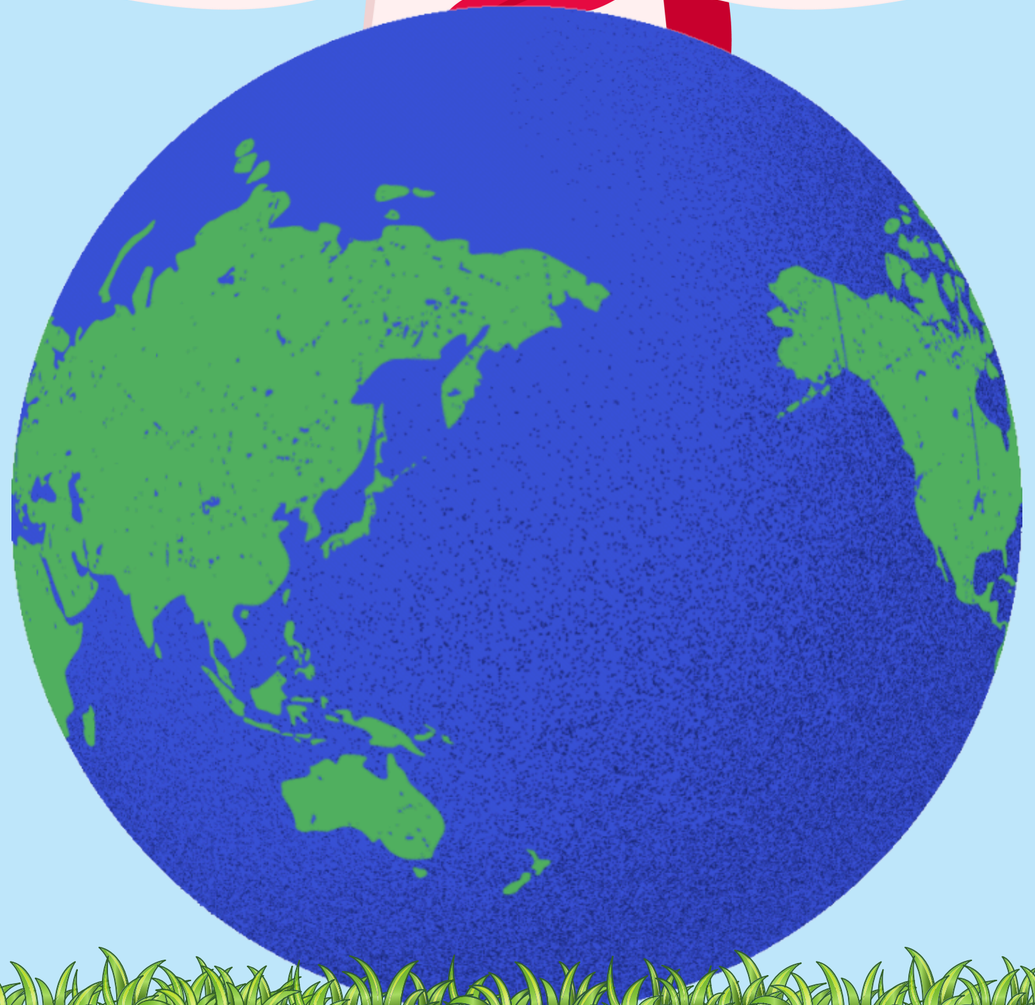
Child. Sweet Child.
remember. Easter is a
joyful celebration

for majesty. for Jesus.

for every single nation

all around the world.
we received our
Salvation

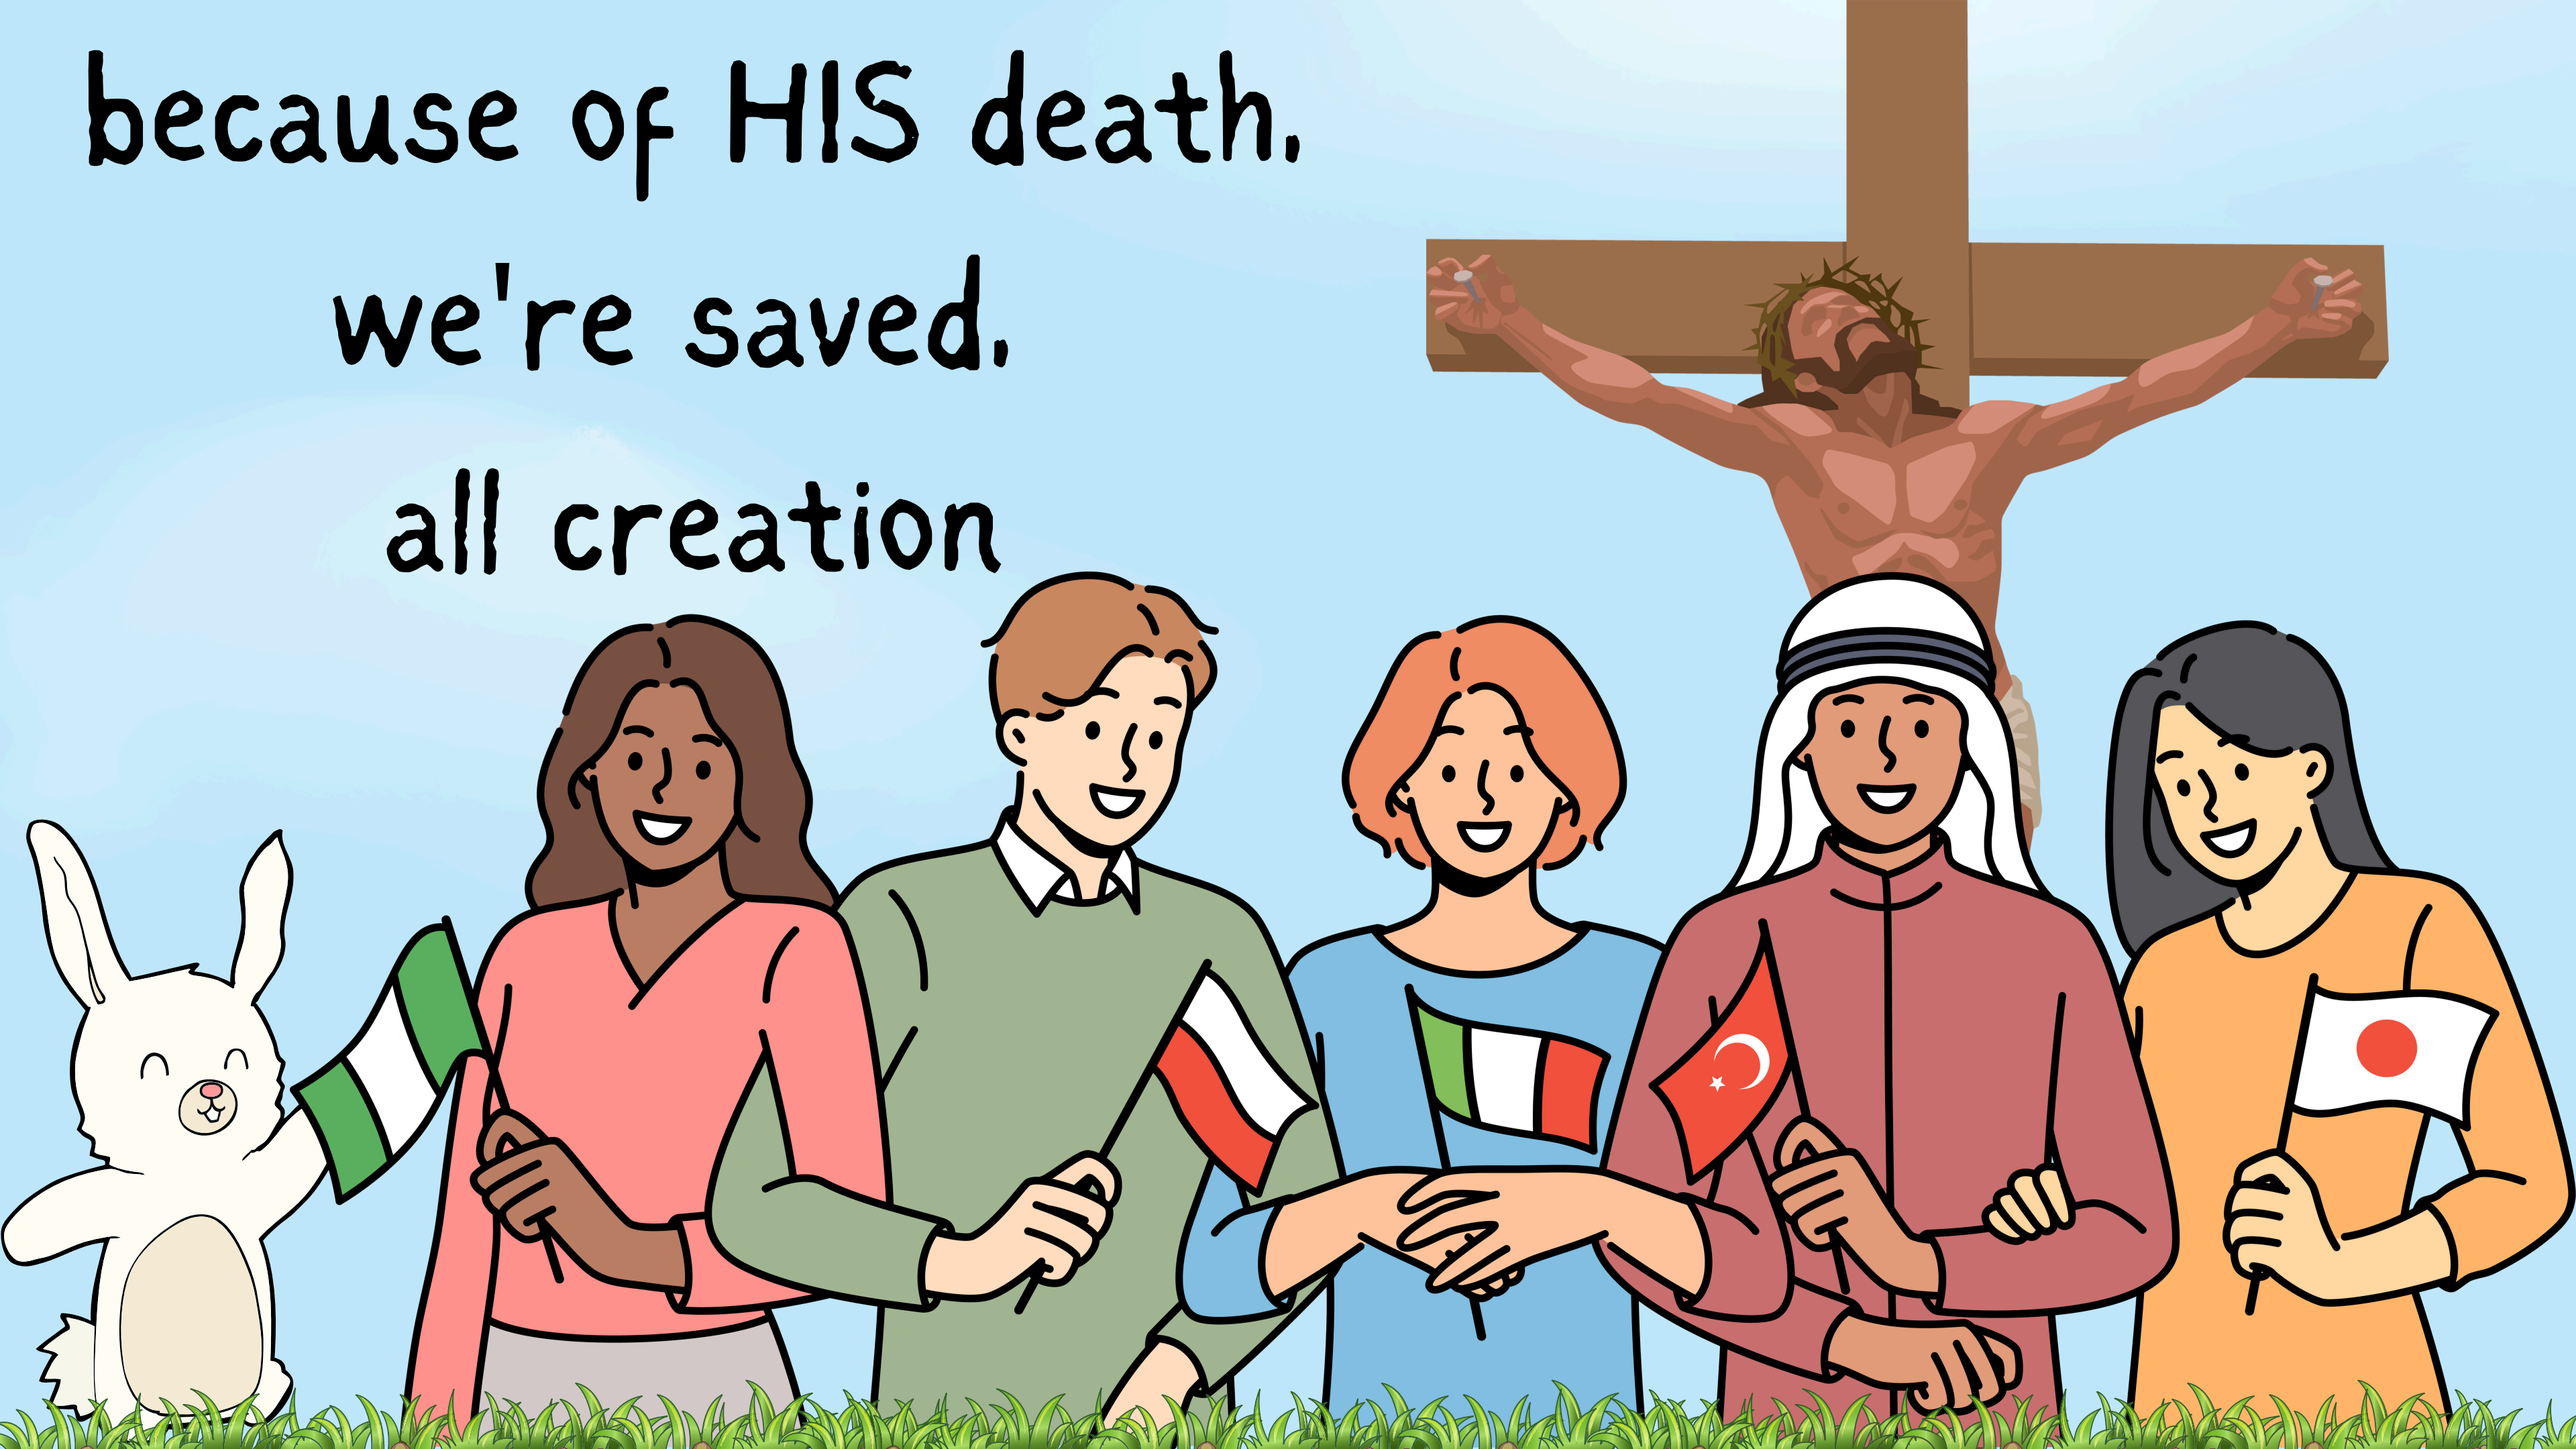




because of HIS death.

we're saved.

all creation



He came back to life, so
that we can live too

Happy Easter

when Easter is here.

think of that.

not the goo

not the terrible.
sad. silly.
worldly-replacion

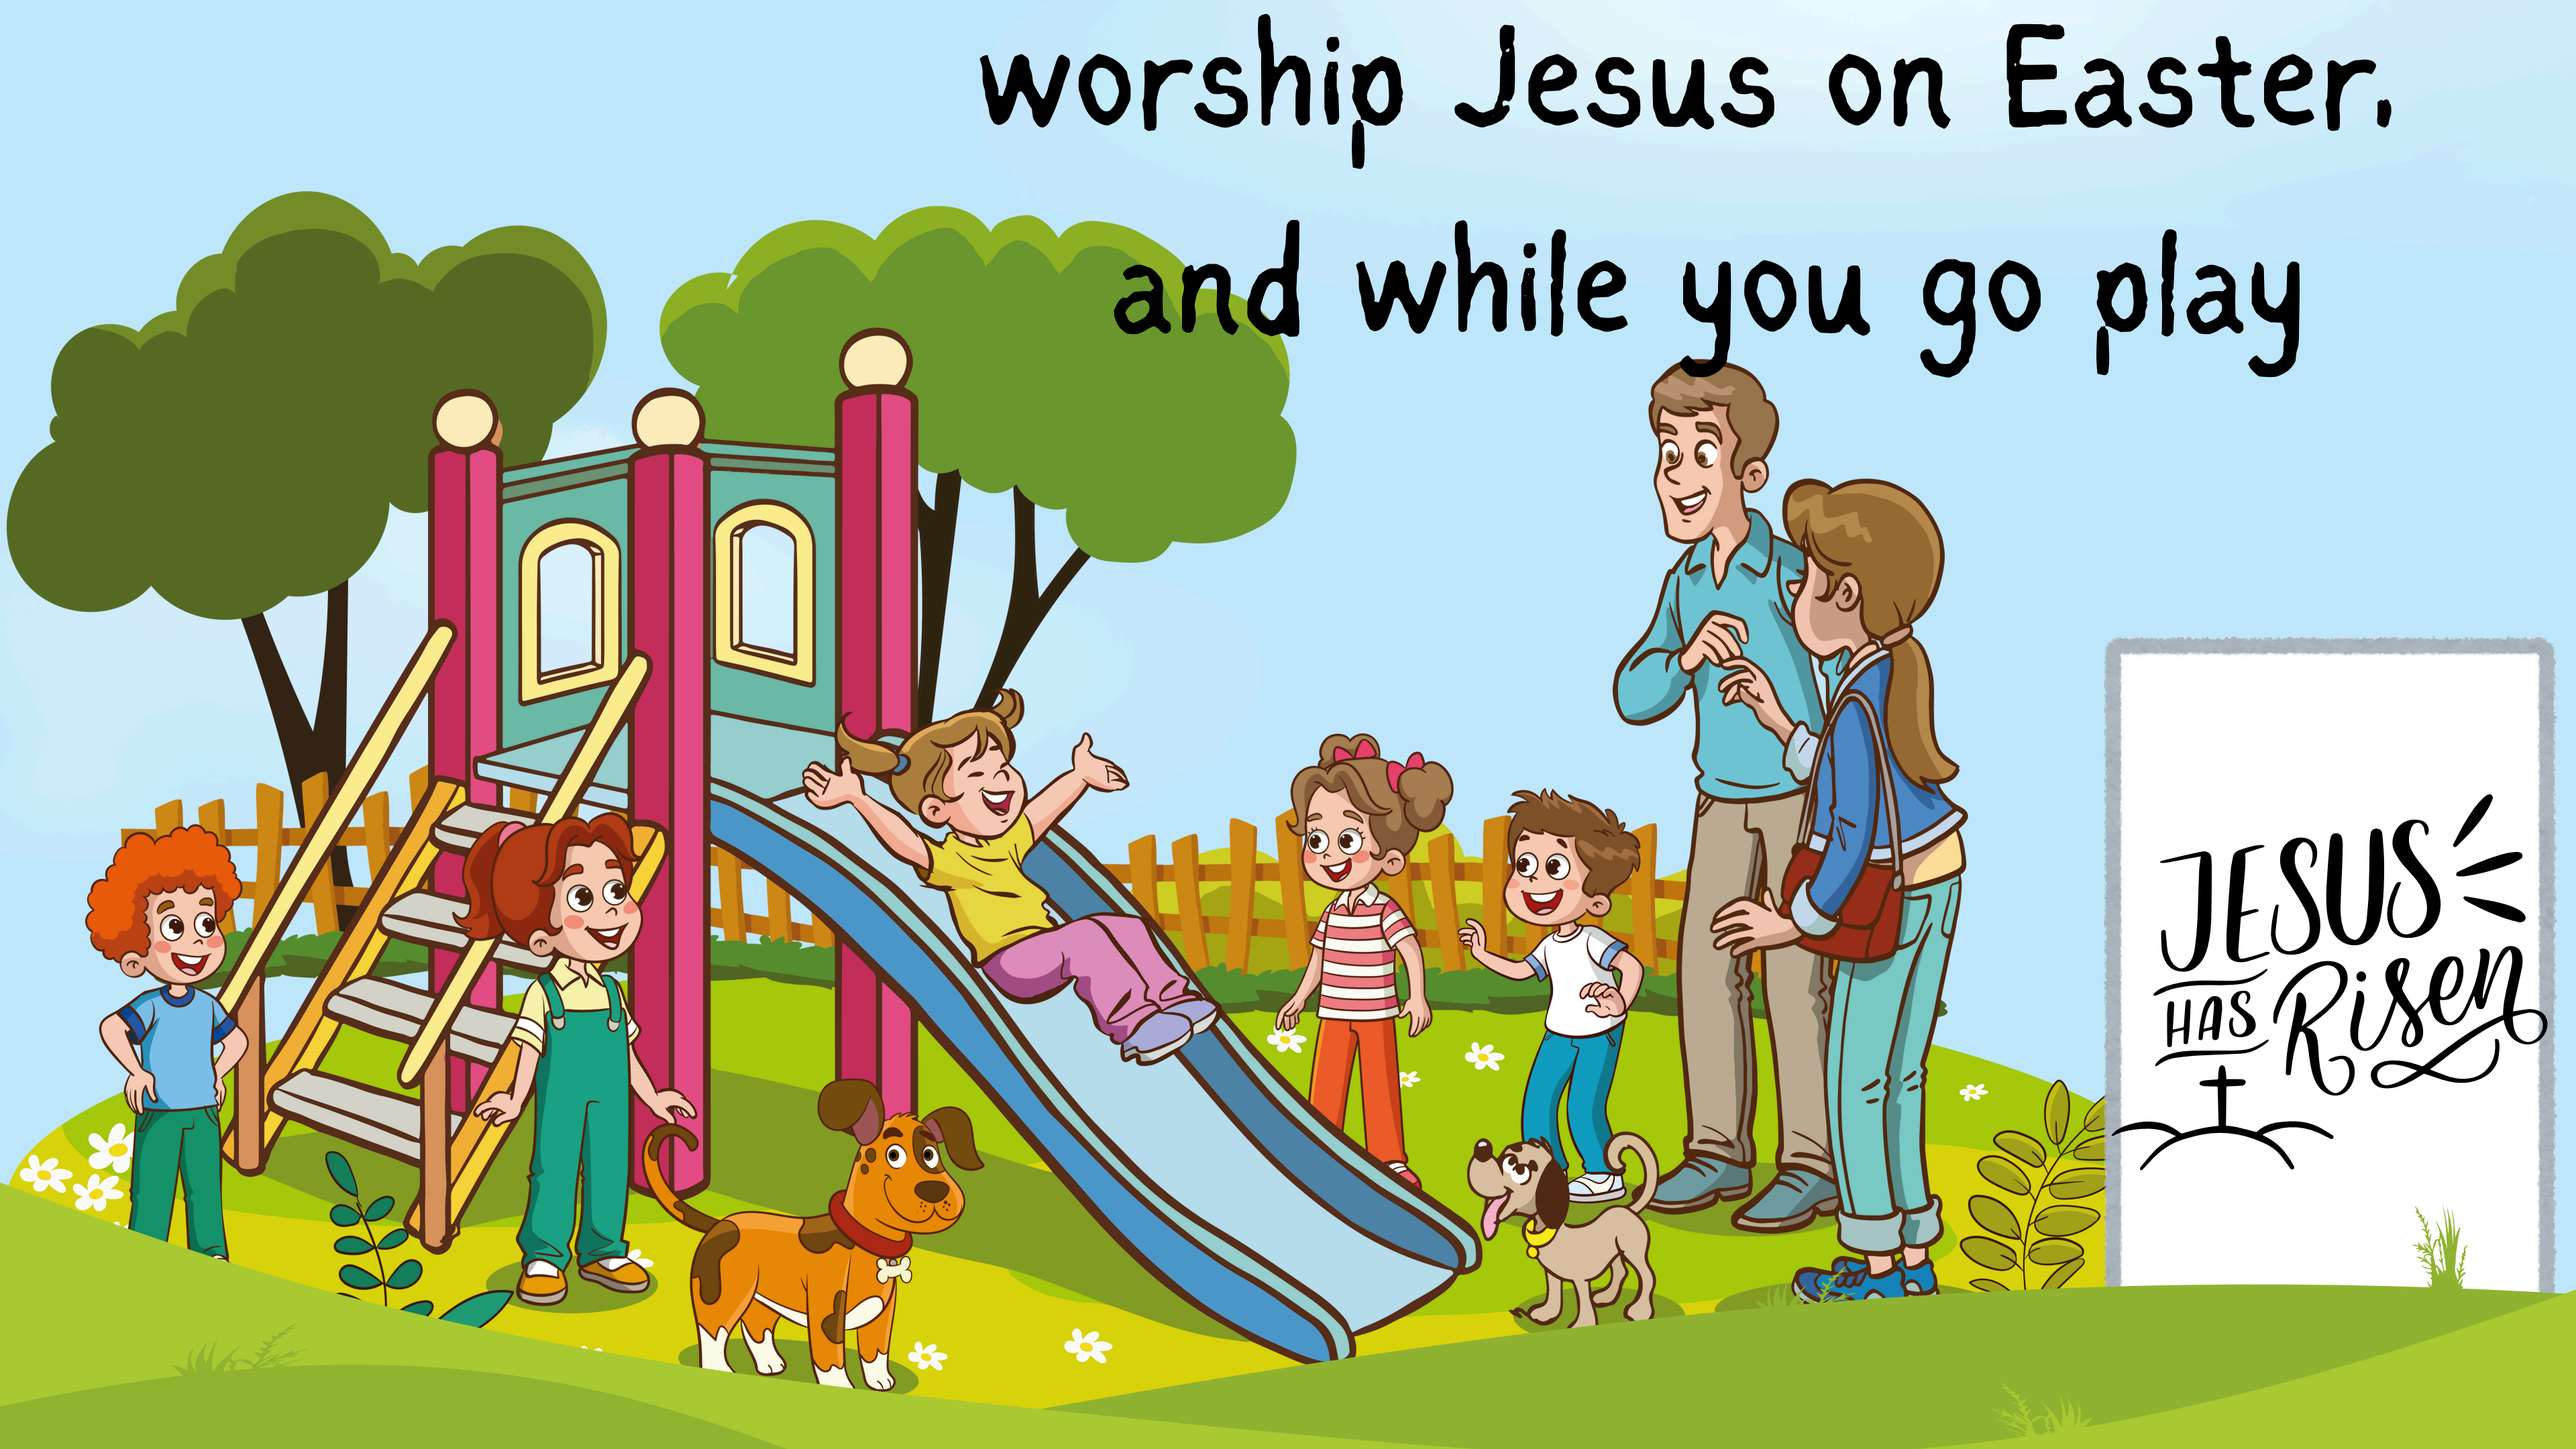
that makes your eyes crazy,
and distracts you
from making

Jesus the King,

on this wonderful day

worship Jesus on Easter.

and while you go play

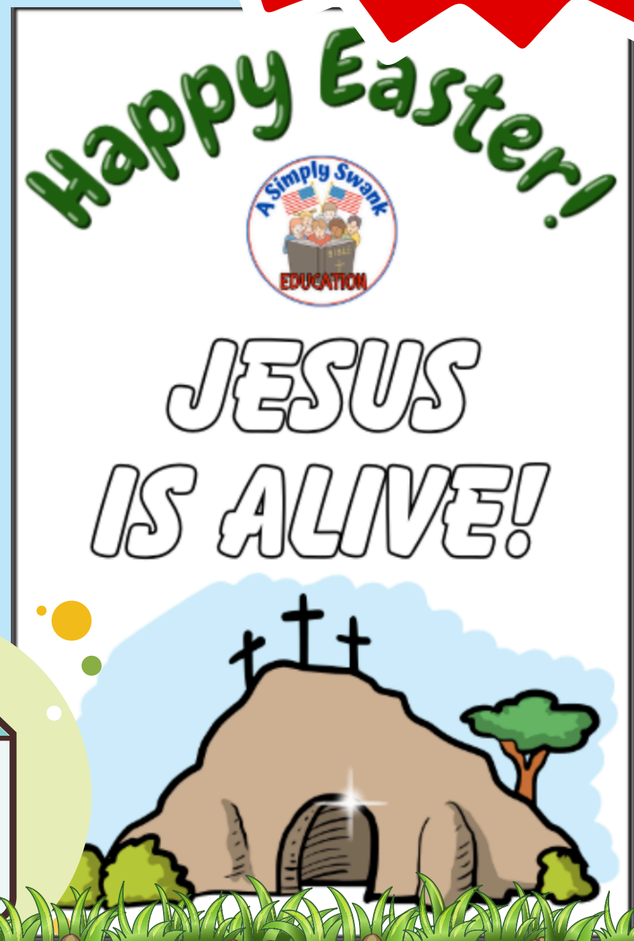


instead of looking for eggs,
look for Jesus instead

He's not in the tomb.

He's alive. He's not dead!

FREE!



He is living today,
so with hearts full of love
